

Dr. Renee Thompson

Keynote Presentation to:

- Break the cycle of bullying and incivility
- Transform unhealthy work cultures
- Build respectful interprofessional teams

Signature Keynote

Breaking the Cycle: Empowering Leaders to Address Bullying and Incivility

This dynamic keynote empowers leaders with actionable tools and proven strategies to:

- Tackle workplace bullying and incivility head-on.
- Build a safer, more respectful work culture.
- Foster a professional and collaborative interprofessional team.

Why invite Renee to your next event?

Renee is a globally recognized thought leader on workplace bullying and incivility in healthcare. Known for her down-to-earth, energetic, and engaging style, she captivates audiences and leaves them inspired to take action. Renee delivers more than just ideas — she equips attendees with practical, actionable strategies they can implement immediately to finally eradicate bullying and incivility in healthcare.

Book Renee for your next speaking event!

What Clients Say

“Renee Thompson’s presentation at the AORN Leadership Summit was truly transformative. She provided practical strategies to tackle bullying and incivility in the perioperative setting, engaging the audience with her insightful and dynamic approach. Her impact was evident as a line of nurse leaders eagerly waited to speak with her after the session.”

- Renae Battié MN, RN, CNOR, FAAN
Vice President of Nursing
Association of periOperative Registered Nurses

“Renee is an incredibly engaging speaker and always delivers timely, relevant content for our audience of nurse leaders. Our participants find that they can immediately implement Renee’s practical, actionable strategies to foster healthier and more supportive work environments, making a real difference for their nursing teams.”

- Amanda Stefancyk Oberlies PhD, MBA, RN, FAAN
Chief Executive Officer and Chief Nursing Officer
Organization of Nurse Leaders – MA, RI, NH, CT, VT

Featured
Keynote Speaker at

AONL 